The False Concept of Reality That Is Perception Is Actually Enslavement

> "There are things known and there are things unknown, and in between are the doors of perception." ~ Aldous Huxley

It has never been more obvious and exposed concerning history, government, and the State, that nothing is to be 'believed,' nothing is to be trusted, nothing should be accepted, and all should be questioned. I have lived by this mantra for decades, but today it is even more vital than ever before, as the fakery surrounding us is ever-present and overwhelmingly consuming. Much of what passes for reality, actually most of it, is simply an illusion designed purposely to steer and manipulate the minds of the commoners through AI and other psychological methods, so as to push the boundaries of thought into a sought after direction that allows for perception to be considered reality that is fully controlled by outside governing interests. In other words, most everything 'believed' to be real is a lie.

The basis for the success of this mind takeover rests in the fact that the masses have voluntarily complied with most all that they have been told by the very ruling class they think they chose. This is nothing more than a psychological operation, and one that rests on the premise that government is necessary, and is the savior and protector of the residing human chattel who 'believe' themselves to be inferior to and dependent on a master. It matters not that this same government is fully controlled as well by mostly unknown oligarchs, as government is the connecting force (middleman) between real rule and the people. In essence, political rule is just one giant compartmentalized psyop.

What has made this transformation of mind and body more possible is the fact that massive data collection methods have allowed for insane amounts of personal information to be collected on a mass scale; so large in fact as to gain the ability to capture the inner thoughts, biometrics, financial data, and habitual behaviors of most every individual. The collection of all this data has been ongoing for a very long time, but is now so far advanced as to literally have the ability to seize the proverbial souls of most individuals in this societal collective of human drones. The result is large scale dehumanization, which can obviously lead to designed eugenics, transhumanism, and depopulation; the desired effects sought by the State.

One of the most troublesome aspects of all the changes taking place with the human animal, is that the psychotic nature of all that is going on, is affecting more and more people simultaneously, and therefore it seems that a mass psychosis, or devolution of minds is taking place. Already, there is a huge increase in suicide, ‘State-assisted’ suicide, (murder) addiction, disease, universal hate, depression, identity ‘crisis,’ flight to transhumanistic existence over common human contact, and incredibly rampant indifference toward human suffering. This all leads to a complete moral breakdown of societal norms based on cooperation and harmony. We are all human, but acting as if the human element no longer exists, and that AI driven melding of machine and man is a way forward, when in fact, those who are managing the State narratives created this desire intentionally in order to wipe away the individual and common human interaction.

Once again, this all comes back to living in a world where manufactured perception is accepted as reality. The irony here lies in the fact that this current perception is seen as reality to such a radical extent as to have reversed the two; meaning that reality is lost entirely while the masses live in a world of false perception so intense as to eliminate, at least metaphorically, one’s actual and tangible existence. Mental confusion at this level can lead only to a total societal meltdown. We are living in a politically-insane circus environment that is barely noticeable to most all of the proletariat class. It is as if nothing is too extreme, psychotic, horrific, inhuman, unholy, or obscene, which indicates a loss of the essence of soul and spirit.

None of this behavior or change in the psyche of man, especially considering those in this country, is accidental, organic, or coincidental, it is all by design. It boils down to a very weakened society; in mind, body, and spirit. A major factor in this transition is due to a trained dependence on government as ‘god.’ The long-term indoctrination and adaptation from self-responsibility to reliance on the State, came based on many factors; schooling meant to dumb-down and stifle intellect, promotion of nationalism, State worship, false patriotism, the asinine notion of ‘exceptionalism,’ and a ‘belief’ in a system of rule.

Given this history , it became obvious that this American population was ripe for the picking so to speak, and with the advancement of modern technology, the plot for societal takeover went into high gear. Today, as the AI usurpation becomes all-encompassing, there is little time left. No one knows what is real and what is not, as the fakery has now advanced to what I would refer to as devastatingly consuming. It has been stated on multiple occasions that there are more bots than humans on the internet. This is due to AI, vast algorithmic manipulation, including accessing everything on social media, capturing every keystroke, every conversation, every search, every purchase, every financial transaction, and every thought, which is data-based, analyzed, and permanently stored. Surveillance is nearly universal, as the encapsulating matrix comes closer to a reality of a full spectrum dominance of information, resulting in a global technocratic prison.

I would venture to say that I have never seen anything close to what is going on today in this country and the world. Given the heinous nature of mankind throughout history, this is a staggering statement about the advanced state of horror we now face. Nothing of this scale has ever been seen before; at least given what is 'supposed 'to have taken place over thousands of years.

Expect many false flag events going forward, each with the goal of solidifying more and more control mechanisms aimed at restraining populations. False flag operations can only live in the aura of perception, as they are all, whether they actually physically happen or not, meant only to cause fear, submission, and compliance. The AI monster has risen, and has become nearly impossible to recognize by the doltish masses. Since most willingly accept what they perceive, and most perceive what they are conditioned to 'believe,' the plotted psychological operation being used to subdue the citizenry is now the primary weapon of war against the masses.

The first and most important takeover aspect of the State, the linchpin and beginning of the end for this population, is the total rollout of a digital ID. Once that is in place, the rest of the totalitarian plot of takeover will swiftly come to fruition, and full digitization of this country, especially the fully programmable monetary and financial systems, will immediately follow.

This is your future should you fail to act now!
